

ON A FUNCTIONAL EQUATION FOR THE GENERATING FUNCTION OF THE LOGARITHMIC SERIES DISTRIBUTION

JOHN PANARETOS

This note deals with finding the solution of a functional equation, where the function involved has the additional property of being a probability generating function. It turns out that the unique solution of this particular functional equation is the probability generating function of the logarithmic series distribution.